WHO WE ARE:

Today's Teen, the voice of a generation, is a monthly newspaper published in South Florida that encourages teens to share their thoughts, concerns, opinions and dreams with their peers and the world at large through their writing and creative talents. Student journalists, writers, poets, artists, illustrators, photographers and musicians are all invited to submit their material for publication consideration. Since its inception in 2005, Today's Teen has become a 'must read' for the teen community.

WHAT WE OFFER:

Today's Teen is distributed to educational professionals who sign up to receive the paper directly into their classrooms at middle and high schools throughout Palm Beach County. Educators involved in the areas of language arts, journalism, creative writing, school newspaper and yearbook, television and film production, music, art, guidance, career planning and psychology enjoy incorporating the paper into their curriculum, finding it engages teens to read and participate in their classrooms.
